and the output is quite long Could you please explain how to modify the grep command to only report vistitle25fullcrackinternet and the strings in the quotes? A: Try this: grep -Eo "(?=\W*vistitle25fullcrackinternet\W*)(?=\W*[a-zA-Z0-9_-\.\]{2,15})" file.txt Explanation:

(?=\W*vistitle25fullcrackinternet\W*) - As soon as there is a non-word character \W (which is Any Word Character) followed by the string vistitle25fullcrackinternet followed by a non-word character, we have a match. (?=\W*[a-zA-Z0-9_-\.\]{2,15}) - As soon as there is a non-word character \W followed by 2 to 15 (I assume 2 or 3 will suffice) alphanumeric characters, followed by another non-word character. Note: This is assuming your file.txt contains lines with vistitle25fullcrackinternet at the start of the line. If the lines are in mixed order, you might need something like this: grep -Eo "(?=\W*[^W]*(vistitle25fullcrackinternet[^\W]*))" file.txt A single crystal of a superconductor attracts attention in view of an application to a magnetic material or an electric material. Since a single crystal of superconductors is homogeneous, the single crystal is expected to be applied to an electric apparatus such as a superconducting electric device, a superconducting magnet, a high-speed switching device, a superconducting magnet device, or a superconducting electric conductor. As an example of a method for producing a single crystal of a superconductor, a liquid encapsulation method is known (for example, see Patent Document 1). In the liquid encapsulation method, a dopant, a solvent, a growth promoter, and a metallic salt as a source of a superconductor are heated to melt under reduced pressure to use a droplet as a seed to grow a single crystal. The temperature of the single crystal is kept to perform a desired reaction such as homogenization to adjust a composition of 50b96ab0b6
